OUR CREDENTIALS

A US company started its business in India with ambitious growth plans. SKP's finance controlling team designed effective internal controls, drafted and implemented SOPs and set up a tailor-made accounting and reporting system to support the planned growth in India. Today, their Indian arm has grown to a team of over 750.

A German conglomerate was witnessing a change in management in one of its subsidiaries in India. SKP's finance controlling team played a pivotal role in facilitating the change by proactively identifying issues, giving solutions acceptable to both the management teams and implementing the changes resulting in a seamless transition to the new management team.

A start-up Wealth Management Company took over business from another company. SKP's Company Secretarial team meticulously planned, monitored and executed the compliances by liaising with the investors while also taking cognizance of the shareholder's agreement and exchange regulations.

A UK-based engineering company met with various compliance challenges that stemmed from inadequate handholding in their set up stage. This was further compounded by significant growth that brought forth many cross-border transactions. SKP's finance controlling team stepped in and prioritized and tracked all open matters, liaised with various parties and provided innovative solutions to solve the compliance issues.

A US-based enterprise software company acquired an enterprise, which was later hived off into a separate entity. As their turnkey solution provider, SKP assisted with set-up services as well as back-office support needed to manage operations in India. With rigorous planning, effective collaboration and effective project management, SKP ensured that the client's business continued as usual during this phase.

A newly set up Indian subsidiary of a large Canadian entity wanted to use the accounting services of its shared service centre based in Sri Lanka. The shared services centre was unfamiliar with India's taxation requirements and needed assistance in completing the User Acceptance Testing (UAT) for their enterprise software (SAP).

SKP's Finance Controlling team played a pivotal role in helping the Sri Lankan team configure SAP for the Indian company, aligning it to the business and taxation requirements of the Indian subsidiary, completing the UAT and training the service centre team on Indian GAAP and taxation. On completing the project, we ensured the system was reliable and correctly configured. We also looked after the smooth and timely implementation of the system and the client was able to meet their launch timelines
